

Medium Frugivore Breeding

DESCRIPTION

This product is specially indicated for iron-sensitive medium-sized frugivorous softbills like toucans, mynahs, toucanets, aracarís and fruit-eating pigeons.

WILDIETS® Medium Frugivore Breeding should only be fed to iron-sensitive bird species. The iron level in this product could be deficient for other species.

*The iron content of each batch is systematically analysed and made available to our customers.

FEEDING RECOMMENDATIONS

It is formulated to be administered together with sweet fruit, where WILDIETS® Medium Frugivore Breeding should constitute around 70 % of the ration. This combination will result in a complete diet for reproductive periods.

WILDIETS® Medium Frugivore Breeding contains the vitamins, minerals, trace elements and amino acids needed for these birds' health. No other vitamins or supplements must be offered to birds whose staple food is WILDIETS® Medium Frugivore Breeding.

Renew feeders with fresh food and water daily.

Once the package is opened, store in an air-tight container in a cool, dry place.

DAILY INTAKE

It is not possible to provide the daily consumption given the great taxonomic variety of species for which this product is intended. In addition, daily consumption varies depending on other factors such as physical activity or temperature.
